Article IV – Removal of Officials

A group of 5 randomly selected Tribal members (not including Tribal Council Members) shall be formed to voluntarily serve as investigators for any and all allegations against a Tribal Council member.

The removal from office of a member of the Tribal Council or Tribal Court shall follow the procedure listed below:

1. A written complaint articulating specific misconduct of a Tribal Council member, along with a refundable $200 filing fee, shall be submitted to the Tribal Council.
2. An Investigative Committee shall be formed with no less than three (3) Tribe members drawn from the pool of voluntary investigators. The Investigative Committee shall determine one individual as lead investigator. If a Tribal Court is established, the Chief Justice shall serve as the lead investigator and shall oversee the Investigative Committee.
3. An Investigative Committee shall be formed in no more than 7 days, with no less than Five (5) Tribal members drawn from a pool of randomly chosen voting members as voluntary investigators. The Investigative Committee shall determine one individual as lead investigator. Within 5 days after being formed the Investigative Committee will give their ruling as to whether the accusation has sufficient merit. If a Tribal Court is established, the Chief Justice shall serve as the lead investigator and shall oversee the Investigative Committee.
4. The accused official shall refrain from voting on any tribal matters and shall step down from office until the investigation is completed.
5. If the complaint is considered to have sufficient merit, it is the duty of the lead investigator to notify the highest-ranking Tribal Council member not under suspicion to call a full Voting Membership meeting.
6. Prior to the full Voting Membership meeting, the accused official shall receive a copy of the complaint and the investigation findings. In addition, all other members of the Tribal Council shall receive a copy of the complaint and findings for review.
7. At the Voting Membership meeting, the allegations shall be read into the record, the accused official has first right of hearing before all members of the Tribe in attendance. The investigation results will be read into the record after the defendant's argument.
8. Voting Membership, upon hearing all evidence of the accused Official shall vote as to the removal of the official.
9. Based on the decision of the Voting Membership, the Tribal Council shall either re-instate the official or formally remove that official from their position on the Tribal Council.
10. Any officer removed from their position shall not be eligible for filing for any open position on the Tribal Council for a period of four (3) years.

Bylaws of the Mendota Mdewakanton Dakota Tribal Community

11. If the accused official is a member of the tribal court, the Chairman shall be notified. The Chairman will have the responsibility of appointing a committee to investigate the allegations against the judge. If the allegations are true, the judicial shall be immediately removed from the Bench and a new judge appointed. If the allegations are false, the judicial may continue to serve at the discretion of the Voting Membership.
12. If the Investigative Committee determines that the claims against the Tribal Council member or Tribal court are frivolous, the claimant shall be sanctioned, pay a fine determined by the Committee, and forfeit their $200 filing fee. No future claims may be filed by accuser until all fines are paid in full.

Article V – Vacancies

In the event of the death or incapacity, resignation or removal of the Chair, the Vice Chair shall resign their position and assume the office of Chair for the balance of the term. The position of Vice Chair shall be opened for filing and election only to fill out the balance of the term of office.

In the event of the death or incapacity, resignation or removal of any other member of the Tribal Council, the Chair shall call a special meeting of the Voting Membership within fifteen (15) days of the occurrence of the vacancy for the purpose of filling the vacancy. The office shall be opened for filing and election only to fill out the balance of the term of office.
